

Earlier this summer, the NCAA Eligibility Center unveiled a new registration Web site for college-bound student-athletes planning to enroll in college fall 2010 and later. The new Web address is www.eligibilitycenter.org. The Eligibility Center feels that this new environment will aid you in easily accessing the vital information needed to assist your student-athletes and parents with the registration and academic and amateurism certification processes. As members of the high school community, you will be able to access your information from the "For High Schools" link.

Student-athletes that have registered prior to the launch of the new Web site will be required to log into their current account (www.ncaaclearinghouse.net). The student will be asked to verify his or her e-mail address and select a new password. The information that the student has previously submitted will carry over to the new account. However, the student will need to answer additional questions to bring his or her account current. Once the student has completed the update of his or her account, all information will be accessed and maintained at www.eligibilitycenter.org. The student will no longer need to go to the old Web site.

Instructions for College-Bound Student-Athletes Who Have Already Registered

College-bound student-athlete's who have registered with the Eligibility Center under the old Web site (<http://www.ncaaclearinghouse.net/>) and plan to enroll in college fall 2010 or later will need to have their information transferred to the new Web site (www.eligibilitycenter.org). In order to start this process, please have the college-bound student-athlete follow the steps below:

1. Direct the student-athlete to www.eligibilitycenter.org and to click on the spring 2010 or before link (this will re-direct him or her back to the old Web site);
2. Instruct the student-athlete to log in using his or her NCAA ID or SSN and PIN;
3. The next page will give the student-athlete instructions to start the transfer process:
 - a. Validate the e-mail address the student-athlete wants the Eligibility Center to use;
 - b. Log in to his or her e-mail account and click the link in the e-mail he or she received and create an account with the Eligibility Center;
 - c. Log in to his or her new account on the new Web site; and
 - d. Finish the incomplete sections of his or her "My Planner" information.

Transcript Release Forms

With the launch of the Eligibility Center's new registration Web site, www.eligibilitycenter.org, the Eligibility Center no longer provides Transcript Release forms to the student to print off and provide to the high school. This form was generated as a courtesy for high schools that may have required a Transcript Release form. If your high school or district office requires your students to sign a form to release transcripts, use your school or district form. Remember, no specific release is required by the Eligibility Center.
